

Minicurso

“Growth, Inequality and Globalization in Historical Perspective”

Prof. Jeffrey Williamson (Harvard University)

Dias: 20, 21 e 23 de outubro

Horário: 11h30

Local: FEA 1, sala A3

Promoção: Departamento de Economia e Pós-Graduação em Economia, FEA/USP

Informações: Secretaria da Coordenação de Pós-Graduação em Economia

Temas e Leituras

1. From Mercantilism through the First Global Century (20/10)

K. O'Rourke and J. Williamson, Globalization and History (MIT: 1999): 29-55, 77-92.

K. O'Rourke and J. Williamson, “After Columbus: Explaining Europe’s Overseas Trade Boom, 1500-1800,” Journal of Economic History (June 2002): 417-56.

K. O'Rourke and J. Williamson, “From Malthus to Ohlin: Trade, Growth and Distribution Since 1500,” Journal of Economic Growth (January 2005): 5-34.

2. Globalization in the Periphery: De-Industrialization and Re-Industrialization (21/10)

J. Williamson, Trade and Poverty: When the Third World Fell Behind (manuscript 2009): Chps. 3-5, and 8.

J. Coatsworth and J. Williamson, “Always Protectionist? Latin American Tariffs from Independence to Great Depression,” Journal of Latin American Studies (May 2004): 205-32.

J. Williamson, “Land, Labor and Globalization in the Third World 1870-1940,” Journal of Economic History (March 2002): 55-85.

J. Williamson, “Explaining World Tariffs 1870-1938: Stolper-Samuelson, Strategic Tariffs and State Revenues,” in R. Findlay, R. Henriksson, H. Lindgren and M. Lundahl (eds.), Eli F. Heckscher, International Trade, and Economic History (MIT, 2006): 199-228.

A. Gomez-Galvarriato and J. Williamson, “Was It Prices, Productivity or Policy? Latin American Industrialization after 1870,” Journal of Latin American Studies (forthcoming 2009).

3. Latin American Inequality in the Very Long Run (23/10)

J. Williamson, "Five Centuries of Latin American Inequality", manuscript
(<http://www.usp.br/feaecon/media/fck/File/Five%20Centuries%20of%20LA%20Inequality.pdf>)